TARGET AUDIENCE

This activity is designed for primary care physicians, cardiologists, anesthesiologists, emergency medicine physicians, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, registered nurses, electrophysiology technicians and biomedical engineers.

EDUCATIONAL NEED

As a result of previous evaluations and our community physician annual needs assessment survey, the need for cutting edge information about electrophysiology has been identified. Methods to diagnose treat and manage patients with arrhythmias and cardiac devices continue to change rapidly.

This conference is designed to change physician and other health care provider's competence and/or performance in practice and/or patient outcomes. This year's one day conference will provide practitioners with state-of-the-art tools to help them provide better diagnosis, treatment and management options for their patients.

Faculty presenting and interacting with participants at the activity have been selected on the basis of their comprehensive clinical experience and academic excellence.

EDUCATIONAL METHODS

- Lectures with Q and A will be used to facilitate the dissemination of up to date information.
- Case studies and discussion will highlight conditions commonly seen in clinical practice.
- Interactive discussions are included to facilitate a more in-depth understanding of clinical issues.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

At the end of the activity, participants should be able to:

- Recognize evaluation and management of arrhythmias.
- Describe modern therapy options for arrhythmia and heart failure management.
