

2nd ANNUAL
U.S. CELEBRATION OF

World Hospice & Palliative Care Day

A Virtual Coming Together

Leave No-one Behind:
Equity in Access to Palliative Care

OCTOBER 5-6, 2021

DAY 1 • OCT. 5

New York (ET): 7:45 AM-1:15 PM

California (PT): 4:45-10:15 AM

Africa (UST): 12:45-6:15 PM

India (IST): 6:15-11:45 PM

DAY 2 • OCT. 6

New York (ET): 12:45-6:15 PM

California (PT): 9:45 AM-3:15 PM

Africa (UST): 5:45-11:15 PM

India (IST): 11:15 PM-4:45 AM (NEXT DAY)

Co-hosted by the Supportive Care Service and the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences

Memorial Sloan Kettering
Cancer Center

Overview

Access to palliative care is a human right and an integral component throughout the care continuum for patients with cancer and other serious illnesses. A multidisciplinary group of palliative care leaders at the forefront of research and clinical practice will present on diverse topics, including cultural humility, advocacy, complex communication needs, and ethical considerations.

Condensed over two half-days, this year's program includes:

- Special breakout sessions will include experts on spirituality and global leaders who are actively enhancing universal access to palliative care (selection made at registration).
- A highlight of this meeting will include dedicated sessions on the patient experience as well as the caregiver experience.
- A special Schwartz Rounds will facilitate a case-based open and honest discussion on the social and emotional issues health care workers face while caring for patients and families.
- Participants will engage in discussions on bioethical dilemmas and the role of existential distress for patients, caregivers, and health care workers.
- An overall theme to promote advocacy and leadership within the specialty will be featured throughout the meeting.

This program is focused on the care of seriously ill patients and is appropriate for national and international health care workers including and not limited to physicians, nurses, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, social workers, chaplains, psychiatrists, psychologists, pharmacists, and patient advocates regardless of specialty palliative care or oncology experience.

Palliative care professionals from low and middle income countries, as well as palliative care students currently enrolled in a university program, are eligible for complimentary registration by emailing uswhapccday@mskcc.org.

Learning Objectives

- Recognize health disparities in hospice and palliative care and actionable methods to promote social justice.
- Apply interdisciplinary approaches to address patient and family needs across the domains of palliative care to improve quality of life and alleviate serious health-related suffering.
- Discuss national and global advocacy efforts to promote universal access to palliative care.
- Describe innovations for effective communication with patients confronting life-limiting illness to provide high-quality serious illness and end-of-life care.
- Describe the ethical dilemmas encountered throughout the serious illness trajectory and employ best practices using interdisciplinary models.

Accreditation

Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

AMA Credit Designation Statement

Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center designates this live activity for a maximum of 14.50 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Registration Fees

- Physicians (MDs, PhDs and DOs): $50
- Nurses, PAs and Other Healthcare Professionals: $25
- Residents and Fellows: $25
- Industry Professionals*: $85

Palliative care professionals from low and middle income countries as well as palliative care students currently enrolled in a university program are eligible for complimentary registration by emailing uswhapcd@mskcc.org.

A registration discount is available for MSK Alumni, MSK Cancer Alliance, and Cancer Care Partners to attend a MSK CME course. If you are a member of one of these groups, contact cme@mskcc.org for details.

Registration is complimentary for all MSK employees; however, you must complete registration in order to attend this course.

*Industry professionals may attend MSK CME activities for their own education. Marketing, sales, and promotion of products and services is strictly prohibited at MSK CME activities.

For additional details and course registration, visit:

mskcc.org/whpcd

MSK Course Planning Committee

Billy Rosa, PhD, MBE, ACHPN, FAANP, FAAN

Chief Postdoctoral Fellow
Department of Psychiatry & Behavioral Sciences

Course Director

Shila Pandey, MSN, AGPCNP-BC, ACHPN

Nurse Practitioner
Supportive Care Service

Course Co-Director

Andrew Epstein, MD

Attending, Medical Oncology and Supportive Care Service
2017 Cambia Health Foundation Sojourns Scholar

Course Co-Director

Laurie J. Andersen, BCC, D.Min

Palliative Care Chaplain

Allison Applebaum, PhD

Associate Attending Psychologist
Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences
Associate Professor of Psychology in Psychiatry
Weill Cornell Medical College

Liz Blackler, MBE, LCSW-R

Program Manager
Ethics Committee

Lauren Akua Koranteng, PharmD, BCPS

Clinical Pharmacy Specialist
Department of Pharmacy
Supportive Care Service

Schedule

All times listed on the schedule are U.S. Eastern Time.

DAY 1 (Tuesday, October 5)

7:45 AM	Virtual Course Check-in
8:00 AM	Welcome and Orientation Billy Rosa, PhD, MBE, ACHPN, FAANP, FAAN Judith Nelson, MD, JD William Breitbart, MD, FACLP, DFAPA, FAPOS

1st Annual World Hospice and Palliative Care Day Lectureship

MODERATOR: Shila Pandey, MSN, AGPCNP-BC, ACHPN

8:15 AM	International Models of Excellence in Palliative Care Betty Ferrell, PhD, RN, FPCN, FAAN
9:00 AM	Q&A and Discussion
9:15 AM	Break

Global Palliative Care Organizational Roundtable

MODERATOR: Billy Rosa, PhD, MBE, ACHPN, FAANP, FAAN

9:20 AM	Liliana De Lima, MS, MHA International Association for Hospice & Palliative Care
9:30 AM	Stephen R. Connor, PhD Worldwide Hospice Palliative Care Alliance
9:40 AM	Julia Downing, PhD, RGN International Children's Palliative Care Network
9:50 AM	Joan Marston, RN, MA Palliative Care in Humanitarian Aid Situations and Emergencies
10:00 AM	Q&A and Panel Discussion

Invited Rapid Fire Talks: Diversity, Inclusion, and Social Justice

MODERATOR: Lauren Akua Koranteng, PharmD, BCPS

10:20 AM	Disparities in Oncologist-Patient Communication Cardinale B. Smith, MD, PhD
10:30 AM	Promoting Effective and Equitable Communication and Care with LGBTQ+ Home Hospice Patients and Caregivers: Considerations for Practice, Education, and Research Kristin G. Cloyes, PhD, MN, RN
10:40 AM	Disparity or Preference? Considering and Responding to Gaps in our Palliative Care Evidence Base Rebecca Wright, PhD, BSc (Hons), RN
10:50 AM	Centering Patient Perspectives: A Palliative Approach to Critical Conversations with African-Americans in the Wake of COVID-19 Khalia A. Johnson, MD
11:00 AM	Palliative Care for Health Equity: Snapshots from India Smriti Rana, MSc
11:10 AM	Q&A and Panel Discussion
11:20 AM	Break

Patient-Clinician Conversation

MODERATOR: Andrew Epstein, MD

11:30 AM Andrew Epstein, MD and Patient

Advocacy Corner

MODERATOR: Laurie J. Andersen, BCC, D.Min

12:15 PM National Advocacy Efforts-How National Organizations Are Collaborating for Impact
Amy Melnick, MPA

12:45 PM Q&A and Discussion

1:00 PM Closing Remarks
Billy Rosa, PhD, MBE, ACHPN, FAANP, FAAN

1:15 PM Adjourn

DAY 2 (Wednesday, October 6)

12:45 PM Virtual Course Check-in

1:00 PM Day 2 Welcome
Billy Rosa, PhD, MBE, ACHPN, FAANP, FAAN

Visiting Virtual Schwartz Rounds

MODERATORS: Andrew Epstein, MD & Liz Blackler, MBE, LCSW-R

1:05 PM You are Preventing Me from Being with My Loved One! How the COVID-19 Hospital Visitation Restrictions Have Affected Us and Our Work
UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO PALLIATIVE CARE TEAM
Maurice “Scotty” Scott, MD
Hareklia “Harri” Brackett, RN, MS, CNS, ACHPN
Carolyn Fulton, LCSW
Angela Wibben, MM, MT-BC

1:50 PM Q&A and Panel Discussion

Breakout Sessions (selection made during registration)

2:05 PMS OPTION A
A Global Hospice & Palliative Care Fellowship Collaborative: Harvard, Tulane, & the University of California San Francisco
MODERATOR
Lauren Akua Koranteng, PharmD, BCPS
SPEAKERS
Marcia Glass, MD
Jessi Humphreys, MD
Mark J. Stoltenberg, MD, MPH, MA
2:50 PM | Q&A and Panel Discussion

2:05 PM SESSION B
Patients’ Diverse Spiritual Care Needs: An Interfaith Chaplain Panel
MODERATOR
Shila Pandey, MSN, AGPCNP-BC, ACHPN
SPEAKERS
Soren Ed Glassing, BFA
Imam Yusuf Hasan, BCC
Allison Kestenbaum, BCC-PCHAC, ACPE
The Rev Dr Laurie J. Andersen, D.Min., BCC
2:50 PM | Q&A and Panel Discussion

3:05 PM Break

Invited Rapid Fire Talks: Considerations Across the Spectrum of Hospice and Palliative Care

MODERATOR: Liz Blackler, MBE, LCSW-R

3:15 PM	Building a Framework for Existential Care: The intersection of Palliative Care and Psychedelic Research Yvan Beaussant, MD, MSc Elise Tarbi, PhD, MBE, AGPCNP-BC, ACHPN
3:25 PM	Resilience in the Aftermath of COVID Vicki Jackson, MD
3:35 PM	At the Crossroads of Bioethics, Cancer, and Palliative Care Louis Voigt, MD, MBE
3:45 PM	SGM Sensitivity Communication Skills Training for Oncology Care Providers: A Brief Overview Smita C. Banerjee, PhD Patricia A. Parker, PhD
3:55 PM	Q&A and Panel Discussion
4:15 PM	Break

Caregiver-Clinician Conversation

MODERATOR: Allison Applebaum, PhD

4:30 PM	Allison Applebaum, PhD and Caregiver
---------	--------------------------------------

Closing Keynote

MODERATOR: Billy Rosa, PhD, MBE, ACHPN, FAANP, FAAN

5:15 PM	Around the World - Global Hospice and Palliative Care Lukas Radbruch, MD
5:45 PM	Q&A and Discussion
6:00 PM	Closing Remarks and Thank You MSK COURSE PLANNING COMMITTEE Billy Rosa, PhD, MBE, ACHPN, FAANP, FAAN Shila Pandey, MSN, AGPCNP-BC, ACHPN Andrew Epstein, MD Laurie J. Andersen, BCC, D.Min Allison Applebaum, PhD Liz Blackler, MBE, LCSW-R Lauren Akua Koranteng, PharmD, BCPS
6:15 PM	Adjourn

It is the policy of MSK to make every effort to insure balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in all continuing medical education activities which it provides as an ACCME accredited provider. In accordance with ACCME guidelines and standards, all faculty participating in an activity provided by MSK are expected to disclose any significant financial interest or other relationship with the manufacturer(s) of any commercial product(s) and/or provider(s) of commercial services which are discussed by the faculty members in an educational presentation. As required by the ACCME, when an unlabeled use of a commercial product or an investigational use not yet approved for any purpose is discussed during an educational activity, MSK requires the speaker to disclose that the product is not labeled for the use under discussion or that the product is still investigational.

Course Faculty

We'd like to extend our sincerest gratitude to all the course faculty for donating their time in this program to promote accessibility and inclusion of the global palliative care community.

Memorial Sloan Kettering
Cancer Center

mskcc.org/whpcd

Nauzley Abedini, MD, Msc

Assistant Professor
Division of Gerontology and Geriatrics
Department of Medicine
University of Washington
Founding Chair, Global Palliative Care Working Group
Consortium of Universities for Global Health
Seattle, WA

Dr. Nauzley Abedini is an Assistant Professor in the Division of Gerontology and Geriatrics at the University of Washington and an alum of the University of California - San Francisco Global Palliative Educational Consortium (2019-2020). Her scholarly interests center on primary palliative care capacity building and health services research, including educational and research collaborations in Cambodia and Peru, and developing cross-cultural palliative care education interventions for palliative medicine fellows. Clinically, she attends on the Harborview Medical Center Palliative Care Consult and General Medicine services, which serve a large proportion of vulnerable/underserved populations in the Seattle area and 5 states. She is a former Fogarty Scholar (2012-2013), National Clinician Scholar (2017-2019), and participant in the inaugural University of Michigan Global Health Research Certificate Program (2017-2018). She completed medical school at the University of Michigan, residency in Internal Medicine at the University of Washington, and Hospice and Palliative Medicine Fellowship at the University of California - San Francisco.

Laurie J. Andersen, BCC, D.Min

Palliative Care Chaplain
Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center
New York, NY

The Rev. Dr. Laurie J. Andersen is the Palliative Care Chaplain on the Supportive Care team at Memorial Sloan Kettering, NYC. Ordained in the E.L.C.A., she is a Board Certified Chaplain through APC and received her M. Div. at Union Theological Seminary and a Doctorate in Pastoral Counseling at Hebrew Union College, NYC. As a chaplain, Laurie has served patients and families of all faiths and those of no faith and a variety of spiritual self-expressions. Laurie is currently engaged in research and writing more about Spiritual Injury: when beliefs cause pain and sometimes feelings of utter abandonment at EOL. While Laurie believes deep listening and “presence with heart and both feet” is the most important chaplain role, Laurie is interested in how culture, socioeconomic situation, religion, race, sexual and gender identity, family role, and personality may be pertinent variables in understanding a patient’s spiritual distress. Laurie has spoken as a panelist in a variety of settings, including at the AAHPM Annual Conference, and last year’s World Hospice and Palliative Care Day. She has co-created two posters on Spiritual Injury virtually presented in 2020 at AAHPM, a topic in which she is currently engaged in research and writing. She has collaborated on a number of publications for Journal of Palliative Medicine, Journal of Pain & Symptom Management, and Journal of Palliative Care.

Allison Applebaum, PhD

Associate Attending Psychologist
Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences
Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center
Associate Professor of Psychology in Psychiatry
Weill Cornell Medical College
New York, NY

Dr. Allison Applebaum is an Associate Attending Psychologist in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences, Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center (MSK), and an Assistant Professor of Psychology in Psychiatry at Weill Cornell Medical College. She is the Founding Director of the Caregivers Clinic at MSK, housed in the Counseling Center. The Caregivers Clinic is the first of its kind and provides comprehensive psychosocial care to family members and friends of patients who experience significant distress and burden as a result of their caregiving role. Dr. Applebaum's program of research focuses on the development and dissemination of psychosocial interventions for cancer caregivers, as well as understanding the impact of caregiver psychosocial wellbeing, prognostic awareness and communication skills on advanced care planning. She has published over 75 articles, reviews, and book chapters on these topics, and is the editor of the recently published textbook "Cancer Caregivers" by Oxford University Press. Dr. Applebaum has received competitive funding for her research, including awards from the National Cancer Institute, the American Cancer Society, the T.J. Martell Foundation, and the van Ameringen Foundation.

Smita C. Banerjee, PhD

Associate Attending Behavioral Scientist
Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center
Weill Cornell Medical Center
New York, NY

Dr. Smita Banerjee is an Associate Attending Behavioral Scientist in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at MSKCC. She received her PhD in Health Communication in 2005 from Rutgers University. Her research is in cancer prevention and control, with special emphasis on the role of communication between oncology health care providers (HCPs) and patients, and message framing for cancer risk prevention. Her recent work has primarily been contextualized in the areas of communication skills training to (a) improve sexual and gender minority (SGM) sensitivity for oncology HCPs, (b) reduce stigma experienced by patients with lung cancer who smoke(d), and (c) encourage HCPs to discuss sexual health concerns of cisgender female patients with cancer. Dr. Banerjee's research has been funded by the NCI, NIDA, and philanthropic organizations like T. J. Martell Foundation, Goldstein Foundation, and Geri & Me Foundation. She has published over 85 peer-reviewed manuscripts, 15 reviews and book chapters, and presented in over 100 national and international conferences.

Yvan Beaussant, MD, MSc

Instructor in Medicine
Psychosocial Oncology & Palliative Care
Dana-Farber Cancer Institute
Harvard Medical School
Boston, MA

Dr. Yvan Beaussant is a French-trained hematologist and palliative care physician committed to clinical practice and research that alleviates suffering among people with serious illness. Over a decade of experience caring for patients with serious illness, he has gained clinical experience in the limits of existing therapies to address existential and psychological distress and used quantitative and qualitative research methods to investigate the extent and qualities of this suffering.

From 2018-2020, he was a Dana-Farber Cancer Institute Research Fellow in the department of Psychosocial Oncology & Palliative Care and used this opportunity to focus his research on the potential roles of psychedelic-assisted therapies to treat psychosocial and existential distress in patients with serious illness. He conducted qualitative research and led a seminar funded by the Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Studies that helped acknowledge concerns, identify research priorities and define an agenda to advance research at the intersection of psychedelic-assisted therapies and palliative care. In 2018, he also trained in psychedelic-assisted therapies and research at the California Institute of Integral Studies.

Dr. Beaussant moved into a faculty position at DFCI and received funding from Dana-Farber and several foundations to support his research projects, focusing on studying the effects of psychedelic-assisted therapies in patients with serious illnesses and their caregivers, as well as the opportunities and barriers for their integration into existing delivery models of serious illness care.

Liz Blackler, MBE, LCSW-R

Program Manager, Ethics Committee
Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center
New York, NY

Liz Blackler is the Program Manager for the Ethics Committee and Consultation Service at Memorial Sloan Kettering. She is an experienced Clinical Ethics Consultant with a Master of Science in Bioethics from Albert Einstein College of Medicine-Benjamin Cardozo School of Law and a Master of Science in Social Work from Columbia University. Her clinical interests involve working with staff to enhance end-of-life communication and decision-making and navigate conflicts and ethical concerns that can arise around the end of life, including the use of life-sustaining therapies. Her academic focus is in bioethics education and training of clinical staff.

Hareklia "Harri" Brackett, RN, MS, CNS, ACHPN

Lead Palliative Care Advanced Practice Nurse
University of Colorado Hospital
Aurora, CO

Hareklia "Harri" Brackett is credentialed as an Advanced Practice Nurse and Clinical Nurse Specialist from the Colorado State Board of Nursing (2003) and has had her Advance Certification in Hospice and Palliative Care Nursing (ACHPN) since 2006. She has 31 years of nursing experience and has worked in the areas of inpatient and outpatient oncology and blood disorders and vascular access in the capacity of staff nurse, nurse coordinator, case manager, clinical nurse educator, and clinical nurse specialist. She has primarily worked with oncology patients and providers and has considerable background in the areas of patient and staff education, conference coordination and direct clinical care. She has extensive experience in communication, value-based goals of care conversations, advance care planning, family meeting facilitation, and pain and symptom management. She has served as the lead advance practice nurse for the UCH Inpatient Palliative Care Consult Service since its origination in 2005. She has been the co-facilitator of the bi-annual End of Life Nursing Education Curriculum (ELNEC) and the UCH Annual Current Perspectives on Palliative Care conference for the past 15 years.

William Breitbart, MD, FACP, DFAPA, FAPOS

Chair, Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences
Jimmie C. Holland Chair in Psychiatric Oncology
Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center
New York, NY

Dr. William Breitbart is Chairman, the Jimmie C. Holland Chair in Psychiatric Oncology, and Attending Psychiatrist, Psychiatry Service, in the Department of Psychiatry & Behavioral Sciences, Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center, New York, NY. Dr. Breitbart is also Attending Psychiatrist, Supportive Care Service, Department of Medicine at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center (MSKCC) and Professor of Clinical Psychiatry and Vice Chairman, Department of Psychiatry at Weill Cornell Medical College.

Dr. Breitbart's research efforts have focused on psychiatric aspects of cancer and palliative care, and have included studies of interventions for anxiety, depression, desire for death and delirium in cancer and AIDS patients. Dr. Breitbart has had continuous NIH RO1 funding of investigator initiated research since 1989. Dr. Breitbart has received numerous awards including: the 2013 Jimmie Holland Distinguished Leadership Award from the American Psychosocial Oncology Society, the American Cancer Society Trish Greene Quality of Life Research Award, and the 2019 International Psycho-Oncology Society's 2019 Jimmie Holland Award for lifetime contributions to psychiatric oncology.

Dr. Breitbart has published extensively on the psychiatric complications of cancer and AIDS with 200 peer review publications and over 200 chapters, review papers, and editorials. In addition, Dr. Breitbart has edited/written 12 textbooks including Psycho-oncology - 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th Editions; the treatment manuals for Meaning-Centered Group Psychotherapy in Advanced Cancer Patients, and Individual Meaning-Centered Psychotherapy for Advanced Cancer Patient; and Meaning Centered Psychotherapy in the Cancer Setting from Oxford University Press. Dr. Breitbart is Editor-in-Chief, of Cambridge University Press' international palliative care journal entitled, Palliative & Supportive Care.

Kristin G. Cloyes, PhD, MN, RN

Associate Professor
University of Utah College of Nursing
Salt Lake City, UT

Dr. Kristin Cloyes is an Associate Professor at the University of Utah College of Nursing, a senior mentor for the College's Cancer, Caregiving, and End of Life NIH T-32 training grant, and serves as sponsor and mentor to interdisciplinary pre- and postdoctoral students pursuing research at the intersection of caregiving, chronic illness, and end of life. Dr. Cloyes' research has focused on hospice care in home and community settings and among minoritized groups that have been historically under-represented in cancer and caregiving research. She investigates family and informal caregiving and is especially interested in how networks of family, friends, and close others provide social support and caregiving for members with chronic illness and at end of life.

Stephen R. Connor, PhD

Executive Director
Worldwide Hospice Palliative Care Alliance
London, United Kingdom

Dr. Stephen R. Connor is the Executive Director of the London, UK based charity, Worldwide Hospice Palliative Care Alliance (WHPCA), an alliance of over 350 national and regional hospice and palliative care organizations in over 100 countries worldwide. WHPCA manages World Hospice & Palliative Care Day for the global community. Dr. Connor has worked continuously in the hospice/palliative care movement since 1975 and has been the CEO of four US hospice programs. After serving for 11 years as vice-president of the National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization (US), he is now focused on palliative care development internationally with the WHPCA and has worked on palliative care globally in over 27 countries including as international palliative care consultant for the Open Society Foundations.

In addition to being a hospice and association executive, he is a researcher, educator, advocate, and psychotherapist, licensed as a clinical psychologist. He is on the following Boards: National Palliative Care Research Center, Elisabeth Kubler-Ross Foundation & International Children's Palliative Care Network. He is on the editorial board of the Journal of Pain & Symptom Management and has published over 145 peer reviewed journal articles, reviews, & book chapters on issues related to palliative care for patients and their families. He is the author of Hospice: Practice, Pitfalls, and Promise (1998), Hospice and Palliative Care: The Essential Guide (2009 & 2018), and editor of Building Integrated Palliative Care Programs and Services (2017) and the Global Atlas of Palliative Care (2014 & 2020), a WHPCA publication in partnership with the WHO.

Liliana De Lima, MS, MHA

Executive Director
International Association for Hospice and Palliative Care
(IAHPC)
Houston, TX

Liliana De Lima is a palliative care advocate with particular expertise in access to pain treatment and palliative care, and a global perspective drawn from extensive collaboration with academia, civil society, and government representatives in the field of public health, medicine, and social sciences. Ms. De Lima has a background in clinical psychology with a postgraduate degree in healthcare administration, a fellowship in pain and policy and doctoral studies in healthcare policy and administration.

She is Executive Director of the International Association for Hospice and Palliative Care (IAHPC) since 2000. In this role, she is responsible for overseeing all aspects of the organization, including ensuring that the organization is operating efficiently and effectively to meet its mission; overseeing the administration, programs, and strategic plan of the organization; and other key duties include fundraising, advocacy, and community outreach.

Before taking this position, Liliana was program director at the Department of Palliative Care in the University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center in Houston. Previously she worked with the Pan American Health Organization in developing a regional framework in palliative care for countries in Latin America. Before her move to the USA, she was the founder and coordinator of the hospice La Viga, in Cali, Colombia, her native country. La Viga was the first hospice in the Latin American region and served as a center of reference for other hospice programs and palliative care initiatives throughout Colombia.

Prof. Julia Downing, PhD, RGN

Chief Executive, International Children's Palliative Care Network
Professor, Makerere University
Kampala, Uganda

Professor Julia Downing is an experienced palliative and cancer care nurse, educationalist and researcher. She is the Chief Executive of the International Children's Palliative Care Network (ICPCN) and a Professor in Palliative Care at Makerere University, Uganda. She has extensive experience in Global palliative care, research and education, and is on the editorial board of ecancer, APM and the IJPN. She has been working within palliative care for 30 years, with twenty of those working internationally in Uganda, Africa, Eastern Europe and globally developing palliative care for adults and children.

Professor Downing serves on the Boards of several NGOs including the Worldwide Hospice and Palliative Care Alliance, the African Palliative Care Association UK, and the Palliative Care Research Society and is an Advisor to the International Association of Hospice and Palliative Care. She is a Visiting Professor at Edge Hill University and the University of South Wales in the UK and the University of Belgrade in Serbia. She is also a Senior Honorary Research Fellow with the Cicely Saunders Institute at KCL, and an Honorary Senior Fellow at the University of Edinburgh.. She was the recipient of the IJPN's Development Award in 2006, the ISNCC Robert Tiffany lectureship in 2014, the Pearl Moore "Making a Difference" International Award for Contributions to Cancer Care from the ONS in 2015 and was recognised as one of eight 'Change Agents in Cancer Care' in a publication on Women as Change Agents in Oncology in 2016.

Andrew Epstein, MD

Attending, Medical Oncology and Supportive Care Service
2017 Cambia Health Foundation Sojourns Scholar
Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center
New York, NY

Dr. Andrew Epstein is an Associate Attending at Memorial Sloan Kettering (MSK) and an Associate Professor of Medicine at Weill Cornell Medical Center. He has completed fellowships in Palliative Medicine and Medical Oncology and holds joint appointments at MSK in GI Medical Oncology and Supportive Care. His research focuses on improving the delivery of care to patients and their families by optimally integrating cancer care with palliative medicine. He has received grant funding for research in patient-physician communication and advance care planning from various organizations including from ASCO, the National Palliative Care Research Center, the Cambia Health Foundation, and the NIH. In 2019, Dr. Epstein was named an Emerging Leader in Hospice and Palliative Medicine by AAHPM. In collaboration with the MSK Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences, he teaches communication skills to fellows at Memorial. Since starting it at MSK in 2013, he leads the case-based interprofessional and psychosocial Schwartz Rounds at MSK. On the national level, he is active in palliative oncology, serving as Chair of ASCO's Palliative Oncology Symposium program committee in 2019, and he is a member of the NCCN Palliative Care Guidelines panel.

Betty Ferrell, PhD, RN, CHPN, FAAN, FPCN

Professor and Director, Nursing Research and Education
City of Hope
Duarte, CA

Dr. Betty Ferrell has been in nursing for 43 years and has focused her clinical expertise and research in pain management, quality of life, and palliative care. Dr. Ferrell is the Director of Nursing Research & Education and a Professor at the City of Hope Medical Center in Duarte, California. She is a Fellow of the American Academy of Nursing and she has over 450 publications in peer-reviewed journals and texts. She is Principal Investigator of the "End-of-Life Nursing Education Consortium (ELNEC)" project. She directs several other funded projects related to palliative care in cancer centers and QOL issues. Dr. Ferrell was Co-Chairperson of the National Consensus Project for Quality Palliative Care. Dr. Ferrell completed a Masters degree in Theology, Ethics and Culture from Claremont Graduate University in 2007. She has authored eleven books including the Oxford Textbook of Palliative Nursing (5th Edition, 2019) published by Oxford University Press. She is co-author of the text, The Nature of Suffering and the Goals of Nursing published in 2008 by Oxford University Press and Making Health Care Whole: Integrating Spirituality into Patient Care (Templeton Press, 2010). In 2013 Dr. Ferrell was named one of the 30 Visionaries in the field by the American Academy of Hospice and Palliative Medicine. In 2019 she was elected a member of the National Academy of Medicine.

Carolyn Fulton, LCSW

Palliative Care Social Worker
Clinical Instructor, Department of Psychiatry
University of Colorado Hospital
Aurora, CO

Carolyn Fulton has been practicing in the field of social work for 20 years, joining the University of Colorado Palliative Care team in 2018. She attends consults with the in-patient service, works as a family therapist in their out-patient clinic, and also assists with resiliency efforts for the palliative care fellows. Outside of palliative care, Carolyn is a family therapist in the Department of Psychiatry at University of Colorado, providing teaching on family therapy frameworks to psychiatry residents and child/adolescent psychiatry fellows. Before relocating to Colorado, Ms. Fulton worked at Memorial Sloan Kettering from 2009-2017, with the in-patient GI Medical Oncology and supportive care services, developing the role of a full-time social worker on the supportive care team. She provided teaching in the palliative medicine fellowship program, facilitated a group supervision for the fellows, and engaged in their mentorship efforts. Ms. Fulton also served as the Social Work Coordinator for MSK's Family Therapy Clinic. Prior to her time at MSK, Carolyn was with CancerCare; a national non-profit organization providing individual and support group counseling to cancer patients, caregivers, survivors, and the bereaved. Carolyn has spent much of her career supervising and providing field instruction to graduate social work students during internships. Carolyn's clinical areas of interest and expertise include studying relational complexity, supporting young adults at the end of life from a family systems lens, and supporting patients with the existential distress felt physically, spiritually, and psychologically when navigating advancing illness and end of life, including bereavement and questions regarding Medical Aid in Dying. These interests have afforded her opportunities to speak at the Association of Oncology Social Work, Social Work Hospice and Palliative Care Network, and the American Family Therapy Academy.

Marcia Glass, MD

Associate Professor of Internal Medicine
Program Director, Hospice and Palliative Medicine Fellowship
Tulane University School of Medicine
New Orleans, LA

Dr. Marcia Glass is an Associate Professor of Internal Medicine at Tulane University. She originally joined the Tulane faculty from 2006-2012 and then returned in 2017. From 2012-2017, she was on the faculty of University of California, San Francisco. She is board certified in Internal Medicine and Palliative Medicine.

Dr. Glass has worked internationally with Doctors without Borders, the Yale/Stanford Johnson and Johnson Global Health Program, Columbia University, UCSF HEAL Program, Partners in Health, and the Fulbright-Nehru Specialist Program. Her domestic volunteer work includes being a founding faculty sponsor for the Ozanam Inn Outreach Clinic in New Orleans, a faculty volunteer for the UCSF/USF Clinica Martin-Baro in San Francisco, asylum work in New Orleans with Luke's House, and a volunteer during COVID-19 with the Navajo Nation.

Her grant-supported research has produced several peer-reviewed articles along with multiple national and international presentations. Her research awards include the 2015 SHM Best Research Poster, the 2014 California-Hawaii SGIM Outstanding Research Abstract, and 2nd place in the 2011 AMSA Annual Convention in the Community Development and Service Category. Her work has been published in Annals of Internal Medicine, The Lancet, and The Washington Post. She co-edited and published the Oxford Field Manual for Palliative Care in Humanitarian Crises in 2019.

Soren Ed Glassing, BFA

Staff Chaplain
Columbia University Medical Center
New York, NY

Soren Ed Glassing is Buddhist monk, and Staff Chaplain of nine years at New York Presbyterian Columbia University Medical Center. He is the Head chaplain on the Palliative Care team and works on the psychiatric unit.

He has been practicing Zen since 1985 in America, and in Japan and was the Head monk and Co-director of the Zen Studies Society in New York City.

As a chaplain, he teaches spirituality in the healthcare setting to new medical students, residents and fellows, and teaches clinicians ways to reduce stress and burnout on the job. Soren initiated and leads ongoing weekly meditation groups in the hospital and virtually. As a visual artist, he brings art and creativity, into his chaplaincy work.

Imam Yusuf Hasan, BCC

Chaplain
Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center
Weill Cornell Medical Center
New York, NY

Imam Yusuf Hasan is the first board certified Muslim Chaplain in the Association of Professional Chaplains. He works at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center and New York-Presbyterian Hospital/Weill Cornell Medical Center, caring for the human spirit. He specializes in Pediatric and Multi-Faith spiritual care.

Hasan is skilled in non-profits organizations, community organizing, event planning, public speaking, and leadership. He has served on the Board of Directors of the African American Day Parade for the pass 40 years before becoming Chairman in 2013. He is a Distinguished Worldwide Humanitarian awardee (2020), his biography is recorded in The Marquis Who's Who in America for his innumerable contributions to society.

Hasan is committed to the advancement of the African American community and is a devoted member of the Historical Masjid Malcolm Shabazz in Harlem, New York, which is founded upon the leadership of Imam W. Deen Mohammad.

He is a published author and co-author of groundbreaking articles and chapters in books including, 'Disaster Spiritual Care: Practical Clergy Responses to Community, Regional and National Tragedy' (2011), 'On the Ground After 9/11: Mental Health Responses and Practical Knowledge Gained' and 'A Time for Listening and Caring of the Chronically Ill and Dying' (2006).

He has presented at numerous national conferences including the Association of Professional Chaplains and HealtheCare Chaplaincy Network. He has also appeared on numerous television and radio stations, newspapers, and Newsweek Magazine.

Jessi Humphreys, MD

Assistant Professor
Division of Palliative Medicine
Department of Medicine
University of California San Francisco
Co-Director, GPEC (Global Palliative Educational Consortium)
San Francisco, CA

Dr. Jessi Humphreys is an Assistant Professor in the Division of Palliative Medicine at UCSF, and Co-Director of GPEC (Global Palliative Educational Consortium), a multi-institution global palliative care fellowship shared by Harvard, UCSF and Tulane. She completed a degree in Symbolic Systems with a focus on Neuroscience at Stanford University, and completed medical school at Stanford Medical School. She completed residency in Internal Medicine and fellowship in Hospice and Palliative Medicine at University of California, San Francisco. Her scholarly and advocacy interests are in medically underserved populations locally and globally. Her clinical and policy interests include LGBTQQI health, correctional medicine, clinical ethics, and health in refugee and asylum-seeking populations. In her global health work she partners with palliative care champions in Uganda, India and Navajo Nation, working to expand education and clinical palliative care globally, and encourage bi-directional learning.

Vicki A. Jackson, MD, PMH

Blum Family Endowed Chair in Palliative Care
Chief, Division of Palliative Care and Geriatric Medicine
Co-Director, HMS Center for Palliative Care
Associate Professor of Medicine
Harvard Medical School
Boston, MA

Dr. Vicki Jackson is the Blum Family Endowed Chair in Palliative Care and the Chief of the Division of Palliative Care and Geriatric Medicine at Massachusetts General Hospital and Associate Professor in the Department of Medicine, Harvard Medical School. She also serves as the Co-Director of the Harvard Medical School Center for Palliative Care. She was the former Fellowship Director for the Harvard Palliative Medicine Fellowship. She completed residency and chief residency in Internal Medicine at The Cambridge Hospital, Harvard Medical School. She pursued training in research methods through the Harvard General Medicine Fellowship and completed a Master's in Public Health at The Harvard School of Public Health. She completed training in palliative care at The Dana-Farber Cancer Institute and Brigham and Women's Hospital. She joined the faculty of Massachusetts General Hospital in 2002. She was selected in 2003 for the Harvard Academy Education Fellowship where her work focused on the development of end of life medical and communication curriculum which was the basis for the curriculum for the Harvard Palliative Medicine Fellowship. In 2009, she was selected as the Rabkin Fellow in Medical Education at The Beth Israel Hospital.

Currently, she is the Palliative Care lead investigator and mentor on several studies funded through NIH, NCI, and PCORI investigating the effect of early, integrated palliative care for patients with advanced cancer. In 2015, she worked with hospital leadership to develop the Palliative Care Continuum Project which seeks to disseminate excellent palliative care for seriously ill patients at MGH through patient engagement, comprehensive advance care planning, and primary palliative care education for clinicians. Nationally she serves as a member of the Board for the American Academy of Hospice and Palliative Medicine. In 2019, she won the prestigious Harvard Medical School A. Clifford Barger mentoring award. She is the co-author of the book Living with Cancer: A step by step guide to coping medically and emotionally with a serious diagnosis, published by Johns Hopkins University Press.

Khaliah A. Johnson, MD

Division Chief, Pediatric Palliative Care
Children's Healthcare of Atlanta
Assistant Professor, Department of Pediatrics
Emory University School of Medicine
Attending Physician, Grady Ponce de Leon Center
Atlanta, GA

Dr. Khaliah Johnson received her medical degree at Stanford University in Palo Alto, CA in 2007. She then went on to train in general pediatrics at the Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, MD. Her desire to serve children and families facing complex, life-threatening illness lead her to pursue fellowship training in pediatric palliative care at the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia. Upon completing fellowship in 2012, Dr. Johnson joined the Pediatric Advanced Care Team at Children's Healthcare of Atlanta to help expand pediatric palliative care services available to children in Georgia. She now serves as interim division director for Pediatric Palliative care at Children's Healthcare of Atlanta and Emory University's Department of Pediatrics, and spends part of her clinical time in the pediatric HIV clinic at Grady Medical Center. Dr. Johnson's particular career interests are in community-based pediatric care, healthcare advocacy, and developing strategies to provide high-quality palliative care services in resource-constrained settings. She has had the fortune of conducting academic research and performing community service in various parts of the developing world, including sub-Saharan Africa and Central America. Dr. Johnson's commitment to serving the underserved extends to her personal life as well, as she consistently remains engaged in outreach to youth and the homeless through volunteer efforts and church ministries, and is the founder of the non-profit initiative in rural Kenya, We are Wendo (<https://www.wearewendo.com>). She is the mother of a spirited four-year old boy, Aubrey, and a sweet 14-year old Airedale Terrier, Maya. Khaliah and her family reside in the Historic West End of Atlanta.

Allison Kestenbaum, BCC-PCHAC, ACPE

Supervisor of Spiritual Care & Clinical Pastoral Education
University of California San Diego Health
San Diego, CA

Allison Kestenbaum supervises staff chaplains and spiritual care volunteers at UC San Diego Health. She developed and supervises the ACPE Accredited Clinical Pastoral Education program. Allison also serves as a palliative care chaplain for the Howell Palliative Care Service at UC San Diego Health. Allison conducts research about spiritual and palliative care and education. She was the first chaplain to receive a Cambia Health Foundation Sojourns Scholars Leadership Program Award (2018).

Before joining UC San Diego Health, Allison served as Director of Programs and taught pastoral care to clergy of all backgrounds at the Center for Pastoral Education at the Jewish Theological Seminary in New York City. Prior to that she was a Chaplain Supervisor at UCSF Health, where she completed her chaplaincy and supervisory training. She earned her MA in Judaic Studies and MPA in Non-profit Management and Public Policy from New York University. Allison is a board-certified chaplain (NAJC and APC) and a certified pastoral educator (ACPE). She also holds Advanced Board Certification in Hospice and Palliative Care Chaplaincy (APC).

Lauren Akua Koranteng, PharmD, BCPS

Clinical Pharmacy Specialist, Supportive Care Service
Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center
New York, NY

Dr. Lauren Koranteng is a Clinical Pharmacy Specialist in the Department of Pharmacy at the Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center (MSK) in Manhattan, New York, since 2013. She serves as a member of the interdisciplinary team on the Supportive Care Service, contributing pharmacotherapy expertise both inpatient and outpatient. She obtained her undergraduate degree from Mount Holyoke College in Neuroscience and Behavior with a minor in Complex Organizations. She earned her Doctor of Pharmacy Degree from Temple University followed by an American Society of Health Systems Pharmacists (ASHP) accredited PGY1 residency at the University at Buffalo/Niagara Hospice and an ASHP accredited PGY2 Pain Management and Palliative Care Residency at Johns Hopkins Hospital. She serves as a clinical preceptor to MSK pharmacy residents for the Pain Management and Palliative Care rotation. She is board-certified in pharmacotherapy and has membership in several professional organizations. Her special interests include pain management and access to safe oncology and supportive care medicines in developing countries.

Joan Marston, RN, MA

Executive Coordinator
PalCHASE - Palliative Care in Humanitarian Aid
Situations and Emergencies
PatchSA - Palliative Care for Children
Bloemfontein, Free State, South Africa

Joan Marston has been active in palliative care for the past 33 years in many different roles and at local, national and international level. With a special interest in palliative care for children she established Sunflower Children's Hospice in 1998 in Bloemfontein, South Africa; the first national program for pediatric palliative care for the Hospice Palliative Care Association of South Africa; and as co-founder and first CEO of the International Children's Palliative Care Network advocated for and supported the development of children's palliative care in many different countries especially in low and middle-income countries. This concern for children continues with leadership roles in advocacy, management, education and research with PatchSA - Palliative Treatment for Children South Africa, as a pediatric advocate on the South African national Palliative Care Action Group; and as a Global Ambassador for the International Children's Palliative Care Network.

In 2016, observing the heartbreaking suffering of Syrian refugees, so many of whom are children, and realizing there was a great need for palliative care in humanitarian crises yet little was provided, this led to conversations with like-minded colleagues and the establishment of PalCHASE - Palliative Care in Humanitarian Aid Situations and Emergencies. PalCHASE continues to build a global network linking the palliative care and humanitarian health response fields; advocates for the integration of palliative care in humanitarian crises; and collaborates widely on education and research. Apart from issues affecting children needing palliative care another deep interest is spiritual care; and helping children deal with loss and grief.

Amy Melnick, MPA

Executive Director
National Coalition for Hospice and Palliative Care
Richmond, VA

Amy Melnick is the Executive Director of the National Coalition for Hospice and Palliative Care (Coalition). Amy's career has focused on health care policy, legislative and regulatory advocacy, and coalition building with diverse stakeholders. Amy guides the Coalition efforts to better communicate, coordinate and collaborate with the 13 leading national organizations representing the interdisciplinary field of hospice and palliative care.

Additionally, Amy guides the Coalition operations and stakeholder engagement with various health care policy organizations such as Congress, Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, National Institute of Health, National Academy of Sciences, National Quality Forum, Patient Quality of Life Coalition and The Joint Commission. Under Amy's leadership, the Coalition has launched several initiatives including the release of the 4th Edition of the National Consensus Process, Clinical Practice Guidelines for Palliative Care; the National Pediatric Palliative Care Task Force and the receipt of the Coalition's first federal grant for stakeholder engagement for measure development.

Prior to joining the Coalition, Amy was the Vice President, Advocacy, for the Arthritis Foundation in Washington D.C. where she successfully advocated for the creation of a congressionally directed federally funded research program at the Department of Defense for arthritis research. Amy has also represented physicians, scientists, and nurses, while serving as the Vice President for Health Policy at the Heart Rhythm Society. She began her career on Capitol Hill as Committee Staff at the US House of Representatives' Select Committee on Aging where she focused on issues affecting older Americans. Amy attended the London School of Economics and Political Science and received her undergraduate degree from Wellesley College (BA) and her Masters of Public Administration from George Mason University (MPA).

Judith Nelson, MD, JD

Service Chief, Supportive Care Service
Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center
New York, NY

Dr. Judith E. Nelson is Chief of the Supportive Care Service and Attending Physician on the Critical Care Service at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center, and Professor of Medicine at Weill Cornell Medical College. Dr. Nelson received her JD from Harvard Law School and MD from New York University School of Medicine. She is board certified in Internal Medicine, Palliative Medicine, Pulmonary Disease, and Critical Care Medicine.

Dr. Nelson has focused on systematic integration of palliative care with intensive care and oncologic care. She has been principal investigator of multiple research and career development awards from NIH. She launched and directed The IPAL-ICU Project to help improve palliative care for ICU patients and families. Dr. Nelson recently founded the Supportive Oncology Committee of the Alliance of Dedicated Cancer Centers, which she Co-Chairs. She received a Faculty Scholar Award from the Soros Foundation's Project on Death in America, the American College of Chest Physicians' Award for Advances in End-of-Life Care, the Society of Critical Care Medicine's Ethics Achievement Award, the Pioneering Spirit Award from the American Association of Critical-Care Nurses, and Visiting Professorships at Harvard Medical School and the University of Toronto. She has authored numerous peer-reviewed scientific articles.

Shila Pandey, MSN, AGPCNP-BC, ACHPN

Nurse Practitioner, Supportive Care Service
Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center
New York, NY

Shila Pandey is palliative care nurse practitioner on the Supportive Care Service at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center, New York. She received her Bachelor of Science in Nursing from the College of New Rochelle, Master of Science in Nursing with subspecialty in palliative care from New York University and is currently completing her Doctor of Nursing Practice degree at Rutgers University. Shila is the current president for the local NYC Hospice and Palliative Nursing Association chapter. She also acts as an adjunct instructor in the graduate department of NYU Rory Meyers College of Nursing. Shila is board certified as an Adult Primary Care Nurse Practitioner and Advanced Practice Hospice and Palliative Care Nurse. Her academic interests include primary palliative care education, management of pain in patients with a history of substance use disorders, and communication skills training.

Patricia A. Parker, PhD

Member and Attending Psychologist
Director, Communication Skills Training & Research Program (Comskil)
Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center
New York, NY

Dr. Patricia Parker is an Attending Psychologist and Member in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center (MSK). She is Director of the Communication Skills Training and Research Program (Comskil). The Comskil Program provides education and training in communication skills for attending physicians, fellows, advanced practice providers, nurses and other clinicians. Dr. Parker has more than 20 years' experience in research and education in psycho-oncology with expertise in healthcare practitioner-patient communication, healthcare decision-making and quality of life in cancer patients. Dr. Parker has been principal investigator and co-investigator on funded grants in communication and cancer care including a recent project that provides education and training to clinicians on topics related to geriatric oncology and communication. She has provided communication skills trainings to clinicians throughout the United States and in a number of other countries to enhance the communication between clinicians and patients with cancer and their families.

Lukas Radbruch, MD

Director, Department of Palliative Medicine
University Hospital
Chair, Board of Directors of the International Association
for Hospice and Palliative Care
Bonn, Germany

Dr. Lukas Radbruch has held the Chair of Palliative Medicine at the University of Bonn since 2010. He is the director of the Department of Palliative Medicine, University Hospital Bonn, in Germany, and Director of the Palliative Care Centre, Helios Hospital Bonn/Rhein-Sieg. Before this he was the founding Director of the Department of Palliative Medicine at University Hospital, in Aachen.

Professor Radbruch has joined the IAHPD Board of Directors in 2011, was Incoming Chair from 2012 to 2013 and has been Chair of the Board since 2014. He been president of the German Association for Palliative Medicine from 2014 to 2021. He has been a commissioner of the Lancet Commission on Palliative Care from 2015 to 2017.

Professor Radbruch completed his Habilitation (the German equivalent of a PhD) in 2000. He has published extensively, his main research interests being symptom assessment, opioid treatment, fatigue, cachexia and ethical issues in palliative care. He is co-author of the German textbook on palliative medicine (Lehrbuch der Palliativmedizin, Schattauer Verlag). He has been editor of 'Der Schmerz' since 2004, a member of the Drug Commission of the German Medical Board since 2004, and a member of the Expert Commission of the German Narcotic Control Agency since 2004 and a member of the Leopoldina National Academy of Science since 2020.

Smriti Rana, MSc

Director-Programmes, Pallium India
Trivandrum, Kerala, India

Smriti Rana is trained in Integrative and Holistic Psychological Counselling. She began her work in palliative care after losing several family members in one year to protracted illnesses marked by the conspicuous absence of pain relief.

She is the Director-Programs at Pallium India, a national registered charitable Trust formed in 2003 that strives to alleviate health-related suffering. Smriti heads programs ranging from National outreach, advocacy, development and integration of curricula, gender-equity, balanced access to essential narcotic drugs, humane end of life care and palliative care in humanitarian settings. The organization demonstrates, educates, and advocates for the integration of palliative care into mainstream healthcare. Through the Trivandrum Institute of Palliative Sciences (Pallium India's flagship program), a WHO Collaborating Centre for Training and Policy on Access to Pain Relief, Smriti works closely with the WHO SEARO to scale up palliative care services in the region.

Smriti has led psychosocial training sessions at pallium India since 2012, has moderated several expert panels and has been guest faculty for three consecutive years at Dartmouth University's Health Care Foundations sessions on Global Perspectives, with topics centered around palliative care, humanizing pharmaceutical practices in developing countries and innovative responses in healthcare during the pandemic.

William E. Rosa, PhD, MBE, ACHPN, FAANP, FAAN

Chief Postdoctoral Fellow
Department of Psychiatry & Behavioral Sciences
Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center
New York, NY

Dr. Billy Rosa is a Postdoctoral Research Fellow in Psycho-Oncology, Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences, Memorial Sloan Kettering (MSK) Cancer Center, New York. He received his BSN from NYU Rory Meyers College of Nursing (2009); MSN from Hunter College (2014); dual PhD/Master of Bioethics as an RWJF Future of Nursing Scholar at the University of Pennsylvania (2020); and is a graduate of the MSK interprofessional palliative care clinical fellowship. Dr. Rosa is the editor of four books and has co-authored more than 150 publications in a host of diverse forums. Dr. Rosa has received numerous distinctions, including the national 2021 Advanced Certified Hospice & Palliative Nurse of the Year Award from the Hospice & Palliative Credentialing Center. He serves on the editorial boards of the Journal of Hospice and Palliative Nursing and Journal of Pain and Symptom Management, and as a board member for multiple global health and palliative care organizations. Dr. Rosa is an American Psychosocial Oncology Society Health Equity Scholar; serves as the Designated International Association for Hospice & Palliative Care USA Advocacy Focal Point; and is a member of the 2023-2026 Hospice & Palliative Nurses Association Research Agenda Writing Group. He is a Fellow of the American Academy of Nursing, the American Association of Nurse Practitioners, the American College of Critical Care Medicine, and the New York Academy of Medicine. Dr. Rosa founded the MSK U.S. Celebration of World Hospice & Palliative Care Day in 2020 and is grateful to the conference planning committee, Drs. Nelson and Breitbart, and all presenters for their expertise and partnership.

Maurice "Scotty" Scott, MD

Assistant Professor
General Internal Medicine
Section of Palliative Care
The University of Colorado, School of Medicine
Aurora, CO

Dr. Maurice "Scotty" Scott is a Board Certified Family Medicine physician, a member of the American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP), and a member of the American Academy of Hospice and Palliative Medicine (AAHPM). Dr. Scott practices with the University of Colorado Palliative Medicine Service that is accredited by the Joint Commission. Additionally, he serves as core faculty for the University of Colorado's Master of Science in Palliative Care and the novel Community-based Hospice & Palliative Medicine Fellowship.

Cardinale B. Smith, MD, PhD

Chief Quality Officer, Cancer Services
Mount Sinai Health Systems
New York, NY

Dr. Cardinale Smith is an Associate Professor of Medicine in the Division of Hematology and Medical Oncology and the Brookdale Department of Geriatrics and Palliative Medicine at the Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai and the Chief Quality Officer for Cancer Services, Mount Sinai Health System. She is a medical oncologist and palliative care physician whose clinical practice is focused on lung cancer and palliative care. Her research interests focus on doctor-patient communication, evaluating treatment disparities in cancer care, determinants of cancer patients' quality of care, characterizing barriers to optimal cancer and palliative care and developing approaches to eliminating those barriers among racial and ethnic minorities. Dr. Smith is a 2013 recipient of a mentored research scholar grant from the American Cancer Society to evaluate determinants of disparities in the utilization of palliative care among patients with lung cancer. She was a co-investigator on a Patient Centered Outcomes Research Institute grant to teach and enable goals of care conversations among oncologists. Additionally, she is the recipient Sojourn's Scholar Leadership Grant to evaluate the role of bias among oncologists on minority cancer patient outcomes. Dr. Smith has had numerous publications in peer-reviewed journals, and in 2015 was named one of the Top 40 Inspirational Leaders under 40 by the American Academy of Hospice and Palliative Medicine.

Mark J. Stoltenberg, MD, MPH, MA

Faculty, MGH Division of Palliative Care and Geriatrics
Harvard Medical School
Boston, MA

Dr. Mark Stoltenberg is a specialist in palliative care with advanced degrees in public health, bioethics and global health. His area of focus is leading innovative and collaborative methods of responding to the needs and suffering of the most vulnerable—both locally and globally. He has experience directly caring for patients in Latin America, Africa and the Caribbean, and has contributed to multiple education and public health programs across these regions. He has partnered with palliative care leaders in Belize, Chile, Colombia, Jamaica, Kenya, and Rwanda to expand services and lead training programs. He continues to maintain ongoing longitudinal partnerships at these sites to assist with the development of education programs as well as mentorship and support to rising palliative care leaders. He is also a founding member of the Global Palliative Education Consortium (GPEC) which focuses on global palliative care training for palliative care trainees in the US, and currently works as a palliative care and public health advisor to the Pan American Health Organization (PAHO).

Elise Tarbi, PhD, NP

Psychosocial Oncology and Palliative Care Research Fellow
Dana-Farber Cancer Institute
Boston, MA

Dr. Elise Tarbi is a Research Fellow in the Department of Psychosocial Oncology and Palliative Care at the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute. Her research seeks to understand existing patterns of serious illness communication to identify approaches that promote preference-concordant treatment decisions and best quality of life through the end-of-life. In her doctoral dissertation, “Beyond Prognosis Communication: Exploring the Existential Dimensions of Palliative Care Conversations with Adults with Advanced Cancer,” she took a mixed methods approach to analyzing naturally-occurring palliative care conversations. In her postdoc, she is continuing to study naturally-occurring conversations between individuals with advanced cancer, their families, and clinicians, using natural language processing. She earned her BSN, MSN, and PhD/MBE from the University of Pennsylvania School of Nursing and a BA from Middlebury College. Prior to her PhD, Elise worked as a Palliative Care Nurse Practitioner at the University of Vermont Medical Center. She maintains her clinical practice as a Nurse Practitioner within the Center for Geriatric Surgery and Surgical Palliative Care at Brigham and Women’s Hospital.

Louis P. Voigt, MD, MBE

Chair, Ethics Committee
Associate Attending Physician
Department of Anesthesiology and Critical Care Medicine
Department of Medicine
Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center
Associate Professor of Clinical Medicine in Anesthesiology
Weill Cornell Medical Center
New York, NY

Dr. Louis Voigt is a graduate of the State University of Haiti School of Medicine. He completed his residency training in Internal Medicine and fellowship training in Pulmonary Disease at New York Methodist Hospital and fellowship training in Critical Care Medicine at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center. He holds a Masters of Bioethics degree from Columbia University and certifications by the American Board of Internal Medicine in Internal Medicine, Pulmonary Disease, Critical Care Medicine, and Hospice and Palliative Medicine.

He is an Associate Professor of Clinical Medicine and Anesthesiology at the New York Presbyterian Weill Cornell Medical Center, an Associate Attending Physician in the Department of Medicine and in the Department of Anesthesiology, Pain and Critical Care Medicine, and the Ethics Committee Chair at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center. Also, he is the Medical Consultant for Advanced Cardiac Life Support by the American Heart Association at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center. Current research interests include ethical issues surrounding end of life care, decisional capacity, advance directives, decision-making processes for critically ill patients, and ICU-related complications such as delirium.

Angela Wibben, MM, MT-BC

Board Certified Music Therapist, Palliative Care Service
University of Colorado Hospital
Aurora, CO

Angela Wibben is a Board-Certified Music Therapist and has been practicing within adult and pediatric medical settings throughout her professional career. She has extensive experience as an integral member of hospital interdisciplinary teams for palliative care, pediatric and adult oncology, intensive care units, and general medical/surgical units. Angela has additional specialized training and experience in Hospice and Palliative Care Music Therapy, Neurologic Music Therapy, Neonatal ICU and Medical Music Therapy protocols, as well as therapeutic drumming facilitation. She is a Bachelor of Arts prepared percussionist from the University of Arizona, and completed her Master of Music, in Music Therapy, from Colorado State University. Angela's research interests include integrating innovative technologies into Medical Music Therapy practice as well as qualitative research for Music Therapy in Palliative Care.

Kayla Wolofsky, MD

Department of Supportive Care
Princess Margaret Cancer Centre (University Health Network)
Department of Medicine, Faculty of Medicine
University of Toronto
Toronto, Ontario, Canada

Dr. Kayla Wolofsky is currently a clinician-teacher at Toronto General Hospital and the University of Toronto. She received her bachelor's degree in Medical Sciences from the University of Western in London, Ontario. Following her undergraduate studies, she completed a Masters of Science at the University of Toronto with a focus on Plasmodium falciparum malaria and red cell polymorphisms. She completed medical school at the University of Queensland in Brisbane, Australia and completed her internal medicine residency at the Emory University. She graduated from the Harvard Interdisciplinary Palliative Care Fellowship where she trained between Brigham and Women's Hospital and Massachusetts General Hospital. Her clinical interests revolve around Palliative Care and Global Health. She is interested in the clinical and policy aspects of palliative care for medically underserved populations around the world and would like to further explore barriers to introducing palliative care locally and abroad.

Rebecca J. Wright, PhD, BSc (Hons), RN

Assistant Professor
Johns Hopkins School of Nursing
Baltimore, MD

Dr. Rebecca Wright trained as a nurse and earned her PhD at the Florence Nightingale Faculty of Nursing, Midwifery and Palliative Care, King's College London in the UK. She worked as a palliative care nurse at St Christopher's Hospice, moving to the US to continue her research in palliative care with an international lens for developing and sharing practice. Her research uses a health equity lens and collaborative, co-design approaches to improve experiences of palliative care access and delivery in different environments and with different populations. She was the first person to use the experience-based co-design (EBCD) methodology in a PhD and has adapted the approach for a US health systems context, with studies currently in progress in the emergency department, the ICU, and with environmental and supportive services. A primary focus of Rebecca's work is identifying gaps in palliative care evidence, and working with transdisciplinary and community-based teams and approaches to respond to address identified gaps.

Memorial Sloan Kettering
Cancer Center

mskcc.org/whpcd