Do you have a patient that you're not sure how to treat, or want to review your treatment planning strategies. The Australian Prosthodontic Society is pleased to announce a new initiative for its members and the broader dental community. Commencing in 2016, four treatment planning nights a year will be held at ADA house for you to come and see how a Specialist Prosthodontist treatment plans a case. The opportunity will also be there for you to bring a case with appropriate diagnostic material to discuss the treatment plan in an open forum. RSVP for catering essential.
