Digital Implant Planning for Craniofacial Implants, Digital Colour Matching and use of Magnets

Instructors: Alan Bocca, Mark Waters

This afternoon workshop covers the use of digital technology in the creation of an implant retained maxillofacial prosthesis. The course is aimed at those with some anaplastology experience who want to sharpen their skills and knowledge on implant planning, 3D scanning, intrinsic colouration techniques and the use of magnets to retain prostheses. The presenters have a wealth of experience in implant planning, silicone science and anaplastology and the workshop gives the opportunity for the participants to 'pick their brains' in an informal atmosphere.

The main areas covered will be:

Lecture – Implant Planning for Cranofacial Cases

Lecture + Demo – Technovent Magnet System Overview

The demonstration will run through the procedures of taking an impression when using magnetic retention ultimately leading to the construction of the baseplate which anchors the prosthesis in place. This will be followed by a demonstration of the Technovent auricular magnet giving invaluable advice on how to get the best out of the system.

Lecture + Demo – 3D Scanning in Maxillofacial Prosthetics

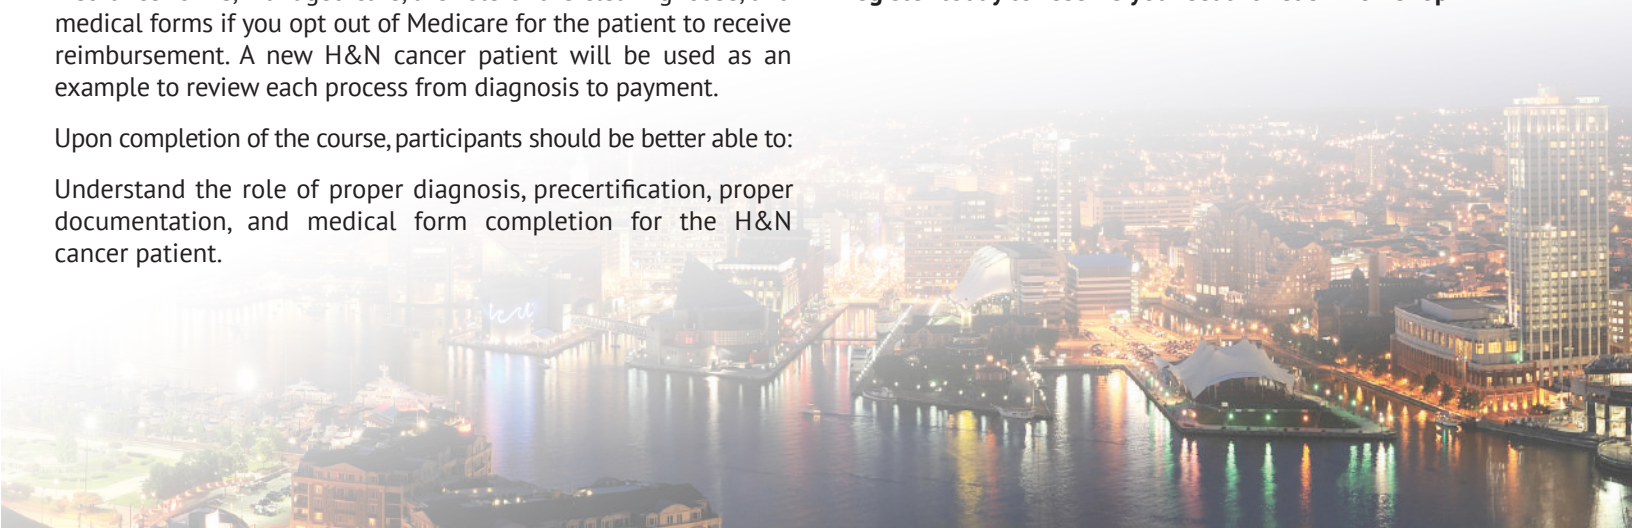

Hands-On – Silicone Manipulation and Colour Matching- Using Eskin System

Demonstration of colour matching and mould packing of nasal prosthesis using Spectromatch Eskin system which enables users to produce reproducible colour matching in any lighting conditions.
