Virtual Annual Clinical & Research Meeting

March 18-20, 2021

PRELIMINARY AGENDA

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

It is with great pleasure that we welcome you to the 35th NASPAG Annual Clinical Research Meeting, and our first ever virtual meeting. Our theme this year is “Finding Strength in Connections” as we plan to bring together the various disciplines that address the medical and surgical care of girls and young women, in an effort to optimize their reproductive health.

Many in our community missed the opportunity to engage with peers during the 2020 ACRM. Even though we are not able to meet in person in 2021, the exchange of research, best practices, and clinical findings is more important than ever. NASPAG is committed to making sure the 2021 ACRM continues to deliver the most up to date content, as well as make sure our members have the chance to network, exchange ideas and stay connected to our fellow NASPAG colleagues and friends. With these goals in mind, all meeting content presented throughout each day of the conference will have some interactive portions. Registrants will also be able to view all presentations on demand.

We hope that this virtual event will provide you with the opportunity to once again learn, engage, and connect with the NASPAG community and colleagues from across the country and around the globe.

Start following us now on #VirtualNASPAG2021!

Sincerely,

Rupa DeSilva MD & Mary Romano, MD, MPH
2021 ACRM Program Committee Co-Chair

Overview:

The Annual Clinical & Research Meeting (ACRM) of the North American Society for Pediatric and Adolescent Gynecology (NASPAG) is designed for primary care physicians, specialists, nursing and allied health professionals, and physicians in training whose practices include pediatric and adolescent female patients and/or whose practices include the gynecologic care of pediatric and adolescent patients. The course will consist of keynote sessions and concurrent presentations addressing critical issues in pediatric and adolescent gynecology, surgery, endocrinology and sexuality. The faculty and participants will interact in a variety of formats, including formal and informal group discussions, oral and poster sessions including video abstracts, and lively debates in order to disseminate the latest information concerning pediatric and adolescent female patients.

Conference Objectives:

At the conclusion of the meeting, attendees should be better able to:

1. Demonstrate understanding of the clinical presentation and medical management of common reproductive endocrinopathies affecting the female pediatric and adolescent population.
2. Describe the medical and surgical management of genitourinary and reproductive tract conditions affecting the pediatric and adolescent patient and demonstrate understanding of procedural and imaging techniques utilized in the gynecologic care of this population.
3. Understand the effects of chronic medical conditions on reproductive function and describe the effect of social determinants of health on reproductive function and quality of life.
4. Incorporate Quality Improvement and Research into the clinical care of pediatric and adolescent patients to more expediently improve clinical outcomes.
5. Develop approaches to implementation and management of contraceptive methods in patients with complex medical conditions.

Special Needs Accommodations:

NASPAG wishes to ensure that no individual with a disability is excluded, denied services, segregated or otherwise treated differently than other individuals because of the absence of auxiliary aids or services. Should you need any auxiliary aids or services, as identified in the Americans with Disabilities Act, or any assistance in registering, please contact the NASPAG Meetings Department at (856) 423-3064 or naspagmtgs@talley.com.
