Clinical Audit Summit 2019

Clinical Audit for Improvement

Friday 29th March 2019

De Vere West One Conference Centre, London

The Clinical Audit for Improvement Summit 2019 in partnership with the National Quality Improvement (inc. Clinical Audit) Network (N-QI-CAN) will bring together clinicians and managers leading local Clinical Audit for Improvement. Through a series of national updates, panel sessions, practical case studies, extended sessions and poster presentations, this one day conference brings together an exceptional gathering of leading practitioners, clinicians, and policy makers to set out the major developments, promote innovative areas of clinical audit, and debate the key challenges affecting you and your clinical audit practice.

“Trusts rated good and outstanding have effective clinical audit processes and ensure that audits are used to drive quality improvements” Care Quality Commission

“Clinical audit forms the backbone of clinical governance systems in most health service providers today. The main tasks of clinical audit procedures are to establish whether services are being reliably delivered to the required quality standard and, if not, to help improve them. Successful clinical audits collect the relevant data, analyse and understand it, and use it to inform improvement.” NHS Improvement 2018

“For a trust to be confident about the quality of its services there must be a comprehensive clinical audit programme supported by a programme of continuous quality improvement” Care Quality Commission

The summit will also explore the question of developing local clinical audit: do we have the resources we need? With the aim of developing a consensus statement from local clinical audit staff.

This summit focuses on clinical audit for improvement with a particular focus on the development of effective local clinical audit leading to audit recommendations that change practice and improve patient care. Hot topic focus issues this year will be on Clinical Audit Leadership, ensuring completion of clinical audit, patient engagement in clinical audit and identification of clinical audit project.

The conference will enable you to:

- Network with colleagues who are working to improve clinical audit practice
- Work with N-QI-CAN on a consensus statement aiming to change practice and influence local and national developments
- Learn from outstanding practice in quality improvement and change as a result of clinical audit findings
- Reflect on national clinical audit developments
- Develop your clinical leadership skills and ensure your voice is heard
- Understand the importance and practical steps to patient engagement in clinical audit
- Ensure completion of audit – from audit results and action planning to changing practice
- Develop a systematic approach to selection of audit projects
- Identify key strategies for ensuring change occurs as a result of clinical audit
- Self assess, reflect and expand your skills in clinical audit practice
