Presented by: Colorado Dermatology Society

Joint Providership by University of Colorado School of Medicine, Office of Continuing Medical Education & Colorado Dermatology Society

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Dermatology and cutaneous surgery are increasingly complex fields of diagnostic and therapeutic techniques and procedures that require continual education over the course of a career. The Colorado Dermatology Society sets to achieve the following objectives:

1. Evaluate alternative treatments in dermatology, based on evidence
2. Analyze the health benefits of laughter such as pain management, immune system enhancement, and stress hormone reduction
3. Evaluate treatment of common dermatologic infections
4. Detail new programs to assist members in their educational priorities
5. Identify symptoms, signs, and causes of physician burnout

ACCREDITATION

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint providership of The University of Colorado School of Medicine and Colorado Dermatology Society. The University of Colorado School of Medicine is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The University of Colorado School of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 8.75 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

The Colorado Dermatology Society Annual Meeting (Program #98104) is recognized by the American Academy of Dermatology for 8.75 AAD Recognized Credit(s) and may be used toward the AAD CME Award.

MOC will be provided. More information to come.
