Join 1,300 of your peers in Houston as we take on the big questions in oncology!

Precision Thinking. Practical Knowledge.

Come join us at JADPRO Live, where we pull apart the big questions in oncology and look at them in detail: Who should be treated with which therapies? How can we optimize that treatment while minimizing side effects? And how can advanced practitioners apply this information to bring about the best patient outcomes and care?

Get the in-depth information you need, at the advanced level you deserve.
