14:00 – 14:15				A pre-op, intra-op, and post-op photographic compilation of many of Professor Field's most challenging personal cases over his 6 decade career in dermatologic surgery (even before the advent of the sub-specialty itself). All have been presented or published, and that information is referenced. The entire subject is included in 5 non-related segments of 300-350 slides each. We would proceed as time allows, but in no particular temporal order. It is possible to enter or leave any time without losing continuity.
